World History and Geography: Ancient Civilizations Students in grade six expand their understanding of history by studying the people and events that ushered in the dawn of the major Western and non-Western ancient civilizations. Geography is of special significance in the development of the human story. Continued emphasis is placed on the everyday lives, problems, and accomplishments of people, their role in developing social, economic, and political structures, as well as in establishing and spreading ideas that helped transform the world forever. Students develop higher levels of critical thinking by considering why civilizations developed where and when they did, why they became dominant, and why they declined. Students analyze the interactions among the various cultures, emphasizing their enduring contributions and the link, despite time, between the contemporary and ancient worlds. 6.1 Students describe what is known through archaeological studies of the early physical and cultural development of humankind from the Paleolithic era to the agricultural revolution. <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Describe the hunter-gatherer societies, including the development of tools and the use of fire.2. Identify the locations of human communities that populated the major regions of the world and describe how humans adapted to a variety of environments.3. Discuss the climatic changes and human modifications of the physical environment that gave rise to the domestication of plants and animals and new sources of clothing and shelter. 6.2 Students analyze the geographic, political, economic, religious, and social structures of the early civilizations of Mesopotamia, Egypt, and Kush. <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Locate and describe the major river systems and discuss the physical settings that supported permanent settlement and early civilizations.2. Trace the development of agricultural techniques that permitted the production of economic surplus and the emergence of cities as centers of culture and power.3. Understand the relationship between religion and the social and political order in Mesopotamia and Egypt.4. Know the significance of Hammurabi's Code.5. Discuss the main features of Egyptian art and architecture.6. Describe the role of Egyptian trade in the eastern Mediterranean and Nile valley.7. Understand the significance of Queen Hatshepsut and Ramses the Great.8. Identify the location of the Kush civilization and describe its political, commercial, and cultural relations with Egypt.	World History and Geography: Medieval and Early Modern Times Students in grade seven study the social, cultural, and technological changes that occurred in Europe, Africa, and Asia in the years A. D. 500-1789. After reviewing the ancient world and the ways in which archaeologists and historians uncover the past, students study the history and geography of great civilizations that were developing concurrently throughout the world during medieval and early modern times. They examine the growing economic interaction among civilizations as well as the exchange of ideas, beliefs, technologies, and commodities. They learn about the resulting growth of Enlightenment philosophy and the new examination of the concepts of reason and authority, the natural rights of human beings and the divine right of kings, experimentalism in science, and the dogma of belief. Finally, students assess the political forces let loose by the Enlightenment, particularly the rise of democratic ideas, and they learn about the continuing influence of these ideas in the world today. 7.1 Students analyze the causes and effects of the vast expansion and ultimate disintegration of the Roman Empire. <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Study the early strengths and lasting contributions of Rome (e.g., significance of Roman citizenship; rights under Roman law; Roman art, architecture, engineering, and philosophy; preservation and transmission of Christianity) and its ultimate internal weaknesses (e.g., rise of autonomous military powers within the empire, undermining of citizenship by the growth of corruption and slavery, lack of education, and distribution of news).2. Discuss the geographic borders of the empire at its height and the factors that threatened its territorial cohesion.3. Describe the establishment by Constantine of the new capital in Constantinople and the development of the Byzantine Empire, with an emphasis on the consequences of the development of two distinct European civilizations, Eastern Orthodox and Roman Catholic, and their two distinct views on church-state relations. 7.2 Students analyze the geographic, political, economic, religious, and social structures of the civilizations of Islam in the Middle Ages. <ol style="list-style-type: none">1.
